Steps to Subscribe to Your zyBook

1. Visit zybooks.com.
2. Every student needs to create an account:
If you do not have an account, click “Create account” in the middle left of the page.
If you have used a zyBook in the past and have a zyBooks account, click “Sign in” at the top right and skip to step 4.

The screenshot shows the zyBooks website homepage. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the zyBooks logo on the left and links for "About", "Blog", "Research", and "Sign in" on the right. A green arrow points to the "Sign in" link. Below the navigation bar, the main content area features the text "Interactive textbook replacements" and "Less text, more action.™ Proven to improve college STEM grades." To the right of this text is an illustration of a stack of books and a laptop displaying a diagram. Below the main text, there is a "Create account" button, which is highlighted with a blue arrow pointing to it from the right. At the bottom of the page, there are two columns: "Instructors" with the text "Use a zyBook in your class instead of a textbook" and a "Find out more" button, and "Students" with the text "Use zyBooks in your classes, or study on your own" and a "Get started" button. On the far left of the bottom section is a stylized owl logo.

3. When creating an account, fill in all the required fields. Make sure to use your school email address if your instructor has required it. Then click “Create account.”

5. This will bring you to your class zyBook. The first chapter and Table of Contents are freely available. Click the “Subscribe” button to gain full access to the zyBook. If you possess an access key, click the link that is just above the “Subscribe” button called “Have a coupon or access key?” Please note that if you purchased an access key from the bookstore, the price may differ from the posted price.

The screenshot shows the zyBooks interface for the course "Programming in Java". On the left is a table of contents with 11 chapters. The main content area displays the course title, a price of $57, and a "Subscribe" button. A green arrow points to the link "Have a coupon or access key?" and a blue arrow points to the "Subscribe" button.

6. This will prompt for payment. Enter your information and click the “Pay” button.

The screenshot shows the same zyBooks interface, but with a payment modal open. The modal is titled "Programming in Java" and contains fields for "Card number", "MM / YY", and "CVC". A blue "Pay $57.00" button is at the bottom of the modal, with a green arrow pointing to it.

7. After payment or entering your access code, your class zyBook will be added to your library. To access it again, simply go to your library on zybooks.com and click the class zyBook.

Become familiar with zyBooks by reading “How to use zyBooks,” found in your library.
